Password and MFA Policy

Authentication requirements for TechNova accounts

DEMO DATA NOTICE
Fictional policy content created solely for the SecureRAG portfolio project. All names, email addresses, procedures and monetary limits are synthetic examples. Do not treat this document as a real employer policy.

1. Purpose

This sample policy defines baseline authentication requirements for employee accounts and internal systems. It is fictional demonstration content for SecureRAG.

2. Password requirements

Passwords must be at least 14 characters long. Passphrases are encouraged. Passwords must not contain the employee's name, company name or easily guessed personal details.

Do not reuse a company password on personal websites. Do not share passwords with colleagues, managers or IT support. IT staff must use approved administrative access workflows rather than asking users for passwords.

3. Multi-factor authentication

MFA is required for remote access, email, cloud administration and other systems designated by IT Security. Use the company-approved authenticator application or hardware security key.

Never approve an MFA prompt that you did not initiate. If you receive an unexpected prompt, deny it and report the event to security@technova.example.

4. Password changes and recovery

Change your password immediately if you suspect it has been exposed. Use the identity portal for password resets. IT may require additional identity verification before restoring access.

Routine password changes are not required unless prompted by a security event, system requirement or IT Security instruction.

5. Account protection

Lock your screen when away from your workstation. Do not store passwords in plain-text files, spreadsheets or source code. Use the company-approved password manager where available.

Service desk personnel must not request passwords, recovery codes, MFA codes or session cookies. Report any such request as suspicious.

6. Reporting

Report suspected credential theft, unexpected MFA prompts or account takeover immediately to security@technova.example or the IT Service Desk at ithelp@technova.example.
